Ceccotti Collezioni

The new Rituals—Stories of Gestures collection by Ceccotti Collezioni is a considered exploration of how design reframes the rhythms of everyday life. The collection reimagines furniture as intimate companions to domestic rituals, such as making tea, dressing, or preparing for rest. Christophe Pillet's Teahouse suite (pictured) interprets the tradition of the Japanese tea ceremony through a minimalist low chair, table, cabinet, and console, crafted in solid American walnut wood with chamfered edges, leather straps, and brushed brass accents. Roberto Lazzeroni expands his Duo line (co-designed with Poltrona Frau) into a complete bedroom ensemble designed to support moments of dressing, grooming, and winding down. This includes a bed, bedside tables, a tallboy chest, a triptych mirror, a mirrored vanity, and a valet stand. The new Janine Lounge offers a deeper, more enveloping take on the original armchair, while the Full Island acts as a functional chest to complement dressing rooms or walk-in closets.
